

Guide name	How to find your BitLocker recovery key
Role	All employees at DTU

This guide explains how to find your BitLocker recovery key.

You may need your recovery key if your computer asks for additional security verification, for example after a restart, a system update, or changes to security settings.

Once you have found the recovery key, it must be entered on the computer that is locked by BitLocker in order to regain access.

Trin	Beskrivelse	Navigation
Sign in to your Microsoft account	Go to your Microsoft account to view your registered devices	https://myaccount.microsoft.com
Go to Devices	Open the list of devices associated with your account
Select device	Select the computer you need the BitLocker key for (You can only see devices that are registered to you)
Open BitLocker-keys	Open the view showing BitLocker keys for the selected device
View recovery key	Display and note your BitLocker recovery key
Use recovery key	Enter the recovery key on the computer that is locked by BitLocker in order to regain access.	